Notes

1. Figures are at Census Day, 21 March 2021.
2. Percentages in tables may not sum to 100.0% as they are rounded to one decimal place. Where numbers are small relative to totals, the percentage may show as 0.0% due to rounding.
3. The Office for National Statistics (ONS) has a legal obligation not to reveal census data about individual people and households. The confidentiality of all census results is protected by a combination of a variety of statistical disclosure control (SDC) measures. In Census 2021 ONS carried out SDC by: a). Swapping records (targeted record swapping), for example, if a household was likely to be identified in datasets because it has unusual characteristics, ONS swapped the record with a similar one from a nearby small area. Very unusual households could be swapped with one in a nearby local authority; b). Adding small changes to some counts (cell key perturbation), for example, ONS might change a count of four to a three or a five. This might make small differences between tables depending on how the data were broken down when ONS applied perturbation.
4. The SDC applied by ONS means the same variable in different tables, for example total residents in the Age Structure table and total residents in the Ethnic Group table, may have small differences, but this does not intrinsically impact the interpretation of the data. These differences will also be present in geographic hierarchies, for example summing the resident population of all Wards in Dudley Local Authority may result in a slightly different total to the resident population of the ONS data for Dudley Local Authority.

Note: COVID-19 Pandemic

Census 2021 took place during a national lockdown and period of rapid change. The government advice at the time was for people to work from home (if they could) and avoid public transport. The Office for National Statistics (ONS) gave extra guidance to help people on furlough (about 5.6 million people nationally) answer the census questions about work and travel to work. However, they were unable to determine how furloughed people followed the guidance. Take care when using this data for planning purposes.
